

Roseville Fair

Oh the night was clear.....and the stars were shining
And the moon came up....so quiet in the sky
All the people gathered round....and the band was a..tuning
I can hear them now....playing coming through the rye

She was dressed in blue....and she looked so lovely
Just a gentle flower....of a small town girl
He took her hand...and they stepped to the music
With a single smileshe became his world

❖ Chorus C(IV) G(I) D(V) G(I)
And they danced all night ...to the fiddle and the banjo
Those drifting tunes...seemed to fill the air
So long ago.....but they still remember
When they fell in love...at the Roseville Fair.

Now they courted well ...and they courted dearly
They'd rock for hours, on the front porch chair
Then a year went by, from the time that he met her
And he made her his, at the Roseville Fair.

So here's a song, for all of you lovers
And here's a tune that you can share
May you dance all night, to the fiddle and the banjo
The way they did, at the Roseville Fair.
